Production Directory

Welcome to the Giles County Film Office

All of us at the Giles County Film office are dedicated to making your production in our county productive. We are available to work with you from the moment you start looking for locations in the county until you have finished your shoot.

Whether your need location shots, permits, accommodations, places to eat and other production assistance, we are ready to assist you on the community level.

In addition to these services, we have photographs of over fifty locations of our county in the Virginia Film Office online library for you to view on the website. We will customize our photograph library to meet your production's interests if you contact us with a list of the locations you are looking for.

For more information contact the Giles County Film Office at the following email address:

Brogan A. Dinger (flavoursfilmproduction@gmail.com)

Dianne J. Dinger (email: rumorhasit@earthlink.net)

You can also leave a message for us with Susan Kidd at 1-540-921-2525 (county administration office)

Need assistance with tax exemptions and other essential information?

The Virginia Film Office is available to discuss with you the incentives for filmmakers, sales and tax exemptions for production activity within the state, permits and regulations required for Virginia filming and other essential information.

For more information contact the Virginia Film Office at the following email address:

Giles County Film Office Production Services Directory

Included in this directory are some of the local pre-production, production and post-production services available to you. This is meant to be a guide only. The listings themselves were submitted for publication. Although every effort has been made to ensure that this information is correct, the Giles County Film Office cannot guarantee total accuracy as services may be subject to change.

The funding for this directory was provided by the Giles County Tourism Committee and the Marketing Sub-Committee .

For an electronic version of this directory, go to the Giles County Film Office website at gilescounty.org and click on the "Play" link. Draw down the arts and film link and click on the film office.

Airports Information

New River Valley Airport: Stratos Private Jet Charters to and from the airport in Dublin.
Call: 1-888-478-7286

Roanoke Regional Airport: Roanoke Regional Airport serves the Roanoke Valley, the New River Valley and surrounding areas in southwestern Virginia with direct service to several major hub cities. It contains one terminal; one-concourse serves this airport. It is served by Allegiant Air, US Airways, United Express, and Delta Connection carriers. Non-stop or connecting service is provided to dozens of major metropolitan cities. Ground transportation options include several major rental car companies, taxis, private limousine companies and a commuter bus which links the Roanoke Valley and the New River Valley. Call: 540-362-1999

Virginia Tech Montgomery Executive Airport: This airport is located on the Virginia Tech campus in Blacksburg. For more information call: (540)-231-4444

Mercer County Airport (BLF): This is the home airport to Bluefield/Princeton, WV, gateway to Four Season Country of Southern WV and Southwestern VA. BLF is 10 minutes from Bluefield and 15 minutes from Princeton with easy access to all parts via I-77, US 460 and US 19. Full aviation services including hangar rental and Exxon fuel are available. Hertz rent-a-car is located in the airport terminal. Commercial air service had been provided into Four Seasons Country until mid-November 2007 when Colgan Air, flying under the US Airways Express banner, terminated service. Currently BLF has no commercial air provider. According to the website, the airport authority is actively exploring options for the return of commercial service to the Bluefield/Princeton area.

College Student Interns

Department of Theatre & Cinema
Virginia Tech
Student Intern Requests

Virginia Tech asks that the company/individual offering the internship answer the following five questions. This information should be submitted electronically to: pharrill@vt.edu After Harrill receives this, VT cinema students are notified of the opportunity available through listserv.

Here are the questions:

1. Describe the film project in a paragraph or two. Include the film's content, the producers and other parties involved (bios are helpful), and the intended means of distribution.
2. Describe the nature of the work and the skills you are looking for with interns.
3. What are the work dates?
4. What compensation or incentives, if any, will be provided to students?
5. Whom should interested students contact? Is this person willing to serve as a supervisor of for-credit internships (i.e. writing up performance reports, etc.)?

Note from Paul Harrill:

-While cinema students at Virginia Tech are hard working and creative, they are not yet professionals. Your supportiveness and patience as they learn is appreciated.

-The Department of Theatre & Cinema makes no guarantees of student availability.

-Students may not, in any way, use Department of Theatre and Cinema equipment for productions that are not exclusively for class work. Production companies must provide all equipment any student might be asked to use.

- Though uncommon, the Department of Theatre & Cinema reserves the right to decline to share information about a production with its students.
